YALA NATIONAL PARK

Despite the sparse vegetation typical of Sri Lanka's south, Yala National Park is a refuge for all kinds of animals. Wild elephants live here just as peacefully as crocodiles, sambar and chital deer, flamingos, peacocks, tortoises, buffaloes, jackals, leopards and allegedly also some sloth bears. The flora resembles a savannah: low bushes, only few trees and shallow lakes with mangroves. The dead trees that can be found in some of the lakes are quite impressive, making ideal resting places for the many representatives of the local bird world. From November to April these birds are joined by many bird species from India and western Asia, which come here to overwinter. There is an information centre at the park entrance near Palatupana, which houses a worthwhile exhibition on the flora and fauna of the Yala National Park.

Yala National Park was founded as a reserve in 1900 and is the largest national park of Sri Lanka. Its located at the south east edge of the island. The extent of the National Park is aprox. 1300 sq km.

Opening hours: 6am - 6pm

Price per package: 1-3 persons 135 USD
4-6 persons 160 USD
Child up to 3 years – free of charge

UDA WALAWE NATIONAL PARK

With herds of elephants, wild buffalo and sambar deer, Uda Walawe is the Sri Lankan national park that best rivals the savannah reserves of Africa. The park's 308 sq km centre on the large Uda Walawe Reservoir, fed by the Walawe River.

Uda Walawe is one of the best places in Sri Lanka to see elephants. There are about 600 in the park in herds of up to 50. Besides that there are also mongooses, bandicoots, foxes, water monitor lizards, crocodiles and sloth bears. There are 30 varieties of snakes and a wealth of birdlife. With a bit of luck visitors might even spot a leopard.

SINHARAJA RAIN FOREST

Unesco World Heritage Site Sinharaja is the last major undisturbed area of rainforest in Sri Lanka. The reserve comprises 18,899 hectares of natural and modified forest, measuring about 21 km east to west and 3,7 km north to south.

Sinharaja has a wild profusion of flora. The canopy trees reach heights of up to 45m, with the next layer down topping 30m. There are almost 130 types of endemic trees and woody climbers. As for fauna, sambar, barking deer, wild boar, purple-faced langurs and squirrels are fairly common. Sinharaja also has 45 species of reptiles and 160 species of birds. Sinharaja has leeches in abundance, therefore make sure you wear long trousers, long socks and trekking shoes (sneakers); repellent sprayed on trousers and shoes will also help.

GALLE & UNAWATUNA

Sri Lanka's seventh-biggest town with its Unesco protected Fort is a place of colour, texture and sensation totally unlike anywhere else in Sri Lanka. With Dutch-colonial buildings, little boutique shops, cafes and hotels, you will feel like walking through a medieval European town placed on a tropical shore.

Just 3km from Galle, you can explore the beautiful beach of Unawatuna with its fine golden sand and moonstone blue water. Unawatuna is a popular resort with many beach restaurants, guest houses and souvenir shops. On the way from Weligama, we recommend visiting a small turtle farm and taking pictures of famous Weligama stilt fishermen.

Price per package: 1-3 persons 70 USD
4-6 persons 85 USD

WELIGAMA

Weligama, meaning 'Sandy Village', is an idyllic fishing village situated along the Weligama Bay. Weligama is still untouched by mass tourism and therefore you can spend a happy day wandering around, dipping your toes in the ocean and getting a feel for local life.

You can visit the peaceful Buddhist Sri Dharmaraja temple and see a megalith statue of the king Kusta Raja, take a picture of famous Taprobane Island with colourful fisherman's boats around and make a visit to local batik factory. If you are brave enough, do not miss the opportunity of visiting a snake farm with approximately 15 species of snakes and a couple of scary looking spiders.

Price per package: 1-3 persons 40 USD

DONDRA & DICKWELLA

If you want to feel the ancient spirit of buddhist's temples, you should visit amazing temples of Dickwella and Dondra just off the Matara town. The Wewurukannala Vihara temple is dominated by an image of a seated Buddha. It is 50m high, the largest statue in all of Sri Lanka and dates back to the time of King Rajadhi (1782 – 1798).

The temple has three parts, the oldest being about 250 years old; however this is of no particular interest. The next part has life size models of demons and sinners shown in graphic detail. If you don't follow the path to enlightenment this is what happens to you. Punishments include being drowned in boiling cauldrons, sawn in half, disemboweled and so on. Finally there is the enormous seated Buddha that is as high as an eight-storied building.
